

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary due to the partisan politics of the executives is an abomination and is a slap in the face to objective broadcasting.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. The fact that an organization portraying itself as a purveyor of NEWS yet clearly walking away from reporting is a classical example of propaganda and I couldn't care less which "side" it comes from... it is an abuse of power. I stand against that. Period.

The fact that the organization planned to violate a public trust to promote their own ends leaves me with no faith in their ability to even come close to making a story that is NEWS worthy. I have better things to do with my time, so the channels associated are now off my list of things to watch. Simple.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. If this broadcast is allowed to happen, we will have officially entered the Orwellian nightmare of controlled programming.....this is unacceptable.
